MK Store

I have a proven track record of working on cutting-edge e-commerce websites built with Next.js and MongoDB, two technologies at the forefront of modern web development. I have played a key role in developing and maintaining the platform, leveraging the power of Next.js for efficient server-side rendering and MongoDB for robust database management. My responsibilities have included optimizing website performance, enhancing user experiences, and ensuring data security. My experience with these technologies has not only contributed to the success of the e-commerce site but also improved its scalability and responsiveness. I'm excited to bring my expertise to future projects that demand innovation and reliability in the e-commerce space.
